

I am outraged and discusted by your unjustified fining of howard stern. Who are you to decide what offends the general public and tell me where in the first amendment of the constitution of the united states that it declares you have freedom of expression both oral or written, unless someone finds your idea or thought offensive? Nowhere. The U.S.A. was established upon the idea that we would create a government that NO ONE would be punished for thinking,believing,or saying something that differs from the mainstream. This country was also built and struggles to maintain EQUAL RIGHTS for men, women, white people, african american people and soforth. Was I the only one who noticed GRAPHIC descriptions of sexual acts just the other day on The Operah Winfrey Show? On daytime television? Discusting. It is discusting that you would favor one entertainer over another in your dictatorial rule over whats words escape the mouths of people reaching vast amounts of people. Did you happen to notice simon cowell flipping the bird to the audience on live television with im sure millions of families tuining in? I cannot stand small minded conservatives running what I see and hear in a country based on FREEDOM. Open your minds and grow up. What is obscene is how childish this has all become. These 'decency controls' you have created matter to almost no one under the age of 60.Forget about how much George W. is paying you. Grow up, let America be America.
